

Castaic Lake

FISHING REPORT

WEEK ENDING 05/28/2010

WATER TEMP: Mid to high 60's

LOWER LAKE Trout Plant: 01/12/2010

UPPER LAKE Main Ramp 3100 lbs: 05/24/2010

The department of fish and game has stocked the upper lake with 3100 pounds of trout on Monday May 24th. Not too much striper action on this last plant but the stripers are still going off on the buoy line and near Kong Island. The bait of choice is still anchovies and sardines on a Carolina rig with 10+ Lb line. Some stripers are still being caught off the dam in the early morning and mid to late evening hours. The largemouth bite is still holding strong and you can catch them almost anywhere on anything. Most largies still are not legal size but you can catch them all day on plastics either fly lining them or drop shotting them. Old SS and Elizabeth Cyn are the best coves for the largies during the afternoon and early evening. Stripers seem to be doing a lot better the later it gets, but still no big swimbait catches to report. Trout fishing is pretty slim as well, you might still be able to nab a few on small spinners and power bait. Crappie and Blue Gill fishing at the lower lagoon is still doing very well and you can catch them for most of the day on crappie jigs and wax worms. Largemouth fishing at the lagoon has been doing great as well, still lots of fish are being caught all day and all night and a variety of different baits big and small.
