

Castaic Lake

FISHING REPORT

WEEK ENDING 10/23/2010

WATER TEMP: High 60's to 70

*LOWER LAKE* Trout Plant: 01/12/2010

**UPPER LAKE Main Ramp 1800 lbs: 10/21/2010**

Fishing is still picking up a little but the big deal of the week is the first trout plant of the season. The trout plant didn't really seem to wake up those stripers yet, but the largies have been seen swirling and teasing the trout all the way from Ball point to C point and the West Ramp. Some smaller stripers have been caught but nothing of good size yet. As far as the trout there was a pretty good amount of them didn't make it for some reason, so finding a few dead ones around will be common, but the lake was not blue stoned. Silver spinners and power bait have been working great for the trout and you can find them around most of the marina. So bring out the big striper lures and get ready for winter. The lagoon fishing is still doing ok; night fishing has had the best results lately, so go with the darker colors.
